POLK'S
Directory of Astoria

ASTORIA

The city and port of Astoria, Oregon, enjoys one of the most beautiful and advantageous positions on the coast line of the North Pacific, it being second only to the supremely fine location of San Francisco; and its natural attributes are not unlike those of that great metropolis—since both cities are built upon peninsulas and each has two harbor-arms making for the fullest commercial service of the port, both are lofty, sightly, convenient and spacious; both completely land-locked, and both rife with great and usable channels.

Astoria's 15,000 people live and do business in an area of 10 square miles of municipal territory, the north front of the hilly peninsula, facing upon the beautiful bay made by the mouth of the Columbia, and its south front looking down upon Young's Bay; the views from either being among the grandest on the continent. The city proper occupies the northern flank and stretches from the famous Tongue Point to Smith's Point at the western extremity which abutts into the merging floods of Young's and Astoria bays.

The city lies at the sea end of the lordly Columbia and is the very gate-way of the vast valley of 500,000 square miles, and must in time, become the market place for the immeasurable tonnage of the products of this, the granary and storehouse of the western world. The whole section for which the city stands, it's admirable commercial facilities, it's strategic position and commanding place as a depot and rendezvous for all purposes of war, keep it sharply in line of selection, for immediate and warranted use at any auspicious moment of development or exigency, and it's future is undoubtedly secure and promising.

Astoria is the head center of the famous salmon fisheries of the Northwest and in its own field employs 3000 boats, 6000 men and 27 great canneries in marketing its $5,000,000 share of the business, annually; it is the one and only home of the celebrated Royal Chinook salmon, the best known delicacy in that line in the wide world. Greater even that this is the lumber industry that has it's headquarters here. For miles in all directions about the city, there are scores of logging camps and milling plants and the finished product goes hence to the domestic and foreign ends of the earth in hundreds of millions of feet every year. Dairying, small fruits, and farming are among the standard industries of the county and flourish abundantly, the climatic conditions being wonderfully appropriate and exactly adapted to these pursuits, all of which are expanding notably year by year. One of the wonders of this section is the equitable climate that prevails here at all seasons of the year. No extreme heat or cold is ever recorded at Astoria, and for this reason it is among the most popular of the summer resorts of the upper coast; the sunshine being tempered always to the seeker after leisurely comfort, and the cold of winter never interferes with business nor pleasure, but rather contributes to the pursuit of either with it's rare moderateness.

The municipal equipment of Astoria is altogether modern and complete. She has everything that goes to make a place habitable, comfortable, convenient, attractive; ample markets of all kinds, all accessories for the dispatch of business, and for refined enjoyment and entertaining pursuit; there is nothing lacking within her borders, unless it be more modern hotel accommodations (her older houses in this line having outgrown their original status,) and that is assured, a splendid modern hotel now being under way at a cost of $150,000; and a new High School building at a cost of $75,000, and the Elks Temple $50,000. The official staffs of city and county are permanently housed in handsome, spacious and finely appointed city hall and court house. She has one of the finest hospitals in the State, under the careful supervision of the Sisters of the Roman Catholic faith; she has libraries, theatres, athletic, philharmonic, social and commercial clubs; a big and active Chamber of Commerce, the oldest on the Pacific Coast established in 1873 having a library of about 750 volumes containing municipal and government information; Churches of all denominations with big and flourishing congregations; a magnificent school system with a corps of 50 teachers; the best fire department of its scope in all the Northwest; a splendid trolley system; an ample and perfect water service of pure mountain water and under splendid conditions of distribution and pressure, and owned by the public; and all the varied appurtenances that make for civilization and progress.

One of Astoria's notable claims to real consideration abroad is that she has fewer idle people and dependent poor than any city of her size west of the Rockies; and more homes owned by their occupants than any place on the coast. Her population is of the thrifty, hard-working, prideful class that believes in the home as an institution, and strives for it, maintains it and thus qualifies the permanency and active spirit of her citizenship. And this spirit is fostered by the wide fraternal influence exerted by the 40 or more societies maintained here in constant and beneficent activity.

Astoria is the second city in Oregon in population and commercial rating, and holds her own with devoted interest and admirable success and will take due and timely prominence in the general commercial up-lift of the Northwest as her natural destiny and her inherent pride and wealth and capacity, shall dictate. Year by year she is attaining to more secure and profitable eminence in the transportation circles of the Pacific Northwest, and with the unfolding of the plans of the new Seattle, Portland & Spokane Railway Company, better known as the North Bank System, is likely to figure conspicuously as one of the coast termini of that splendid Hill property; as well as to become a notable factor in the sea-transit traffic of this section.

Astoria Street Directory

The streets within the city of Astoria running north and south are numbered from First to Sixty-fourth, the numbers running from west to east. First street being on the west boundary line of McClure's Astoria and Sixty-fourth on the east boundary line of Van Dusen's Astoria.

The streets running east and west beginning at the water-front are named as follows: Front, Astor, Bond, Commercial, Duane, Exchange, Franklin avenue, Grand avenue, Harrison avenue, Irving avenue, Jerome avenue, Kensington avenue, Lexington avenue, Madison avenue and Niagara avenue.

In Alderbrook, the most easterly addition to Astoria, the streets beginning at the water-front are Ash, Birch, Cedar, Date, Elm, Filbert, Guava, Holly, Ironwood, Juniper, Kingwood, Laurel and Maple.

In Taylor's addition, the westerly point of the city, beginning at the waterfront, are Taylor avenue, Alameda avenue, Columbia avenue, Berlin avenue and Cambridge avenue. Crossing these from north to south, and beginning at the next street west of First, are Hume avenue, Flavel avenue, Washington avenue, Lincoln avenue, Melbourne avenue, Kingston avenue, Ilwaco avenue and Hull avenue.

Hustler and Aiken's addition is s. of Niagara avenue between 2nd and 12th.

Smith's Point is the extreme western point of Astoria.

ACADEMY of the HOLY NAMES

FOR GIRLS AND YOUNG WOMEN

CONDUCTED BY THE

Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary

Franklin Avenue, Northeast Corner Sixteenth Street

ASTORIA, OREGON

The object of this institution, like all other sister Academies throughout the State, is to impart to young ladies a Christian education, solid, useful and cultured; as "that life is best which issues from the highest knowledge and purest virtue."

The moral and intellectual improvement of the pupils is attended to with the greatest solicitude, and the most devoted attention paid to their domestic comfort. Although the pupils are, at all hours, under the watchful care and government of their teachers, the discipline of the school is mild and parental.

All interference with the convictions of non-Catholics is carefully avoided. Good order however, requires that all should conform to the general external regulations of the Academy.

Students are examined on entering the Institution and classified according to their proficiency.

Students are received at any time during the year, their term dating from their entry.

SCHOLASTIC YEAR BEGINS FIRST TUESDAY IN SEPTEMBER

The town of Seaside is located at the junction of the Ohanna and Necanicum rivers and is the western terminus of the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad. It has a permanent population of about sixteen hundred people. During the summer this increases to from five to ten thousand, as Seaside is one of the most popular summer resorts on the beach, with excellent boating and bathing, protected by Tillamook Head from extreme winds. Three hotels are kept open throughout the year, and during the season there are numberless hotels and boarding houses. Seven trains a day, three local to Astoria and four through to Portland, leave and enter Seaside. It has also telegraphic and telephone connections, a volunteer fire department, street paving, a first class gravity water system and electric lights. The outlook for Seaside as a commercial point, outside of its interest as a summer resort, is good, and there is a state bank with capital of $25,000, a saw mill and door factory owned and operated by the Seaside Lumber and Manufacturing Co. This company has on its payroll upwards of two hundred and fifty men. The timber in this section is heavy and practically inexhaustible. This timber is largely spruce which is valuable for sash and door manufacture. The Seaside Signal, a bright weekly paper, is published here; also has in connection a job office. There are three churches, Episcopal, Methodist and Roman Catholic, and a good public school with five teachers. The climate of Seaside is a very desirable one, the mean temperature during the summer being about eighty-five degrees and in the winter rarely going below thirty-six degrees. More and more people are visiting Seaside as a winter resort as well as during the summer.
